Morris Interactive Acquires the Human Side, Continues to Strengthen Their Learning and HR Consulting Resources

Saskatoon, SK - Morris Interactive is thrilled to announce that it has acquired “The Human Side” as of January 1st, 2024. The acquisition comes as a result collaborations, and building a relationship over the past year. This outcome reflects the commitment to relationships, shared values, people development, their respective clients and shared vision to develop and deliver quality corporate education and economic reconciliation projects.

Mathew Cey, CEO of Morris Interactive says, “The Human Side’s experience in the corporate training and content development space aligns with our commitment to develop and deliver quality programming to industry, Indigenous and governmental organizations. We are thrilled to add the Human Side into the Morris Interactive fold as this is a team that demonstrates integrity and authenticity, adds a depth of experience, online training and assessments, leadership, human resource expertise and knowledge to our growing team of experts and portfolio of clients across North America. We are pleased to have had the opportunity to get to know the principal, Barry Davis and are excited about the leadership, mentorship, learning content and online resources that ‘The Human Side’ brings to the greater Morris Interactive team.”

Barry Davis adds, “I couldn’t be more honoured to be joining the Morris Interactive team. We value our shared focus on collaboration, integrity, and respect for our clients. The energy and dedication of the Morris Interactive team is a pure pleasure to experience!”

This acquisition allows Morris Interactive to expand their current physical presence in Regina, clients across western Canada and further their brand in the learning, HR, and people development space. This also strengthens and deepens existing suite of learning and human resource products and services delivered internationally through the Morris Interactive team.
